CHAPTER XXXVI THE ISLAND OF CHILOE, CHILE IN THE history of the potato there are occasional references to Chiloe. The senior author and Luther Burbank are planning to go there soon to study conditions. The following information has been secured through the kindness of Secretary James Wilson of the United States Department of Agriculture, and Alfred A. Winslow, American Consul, Valparaiso, Chile. It is generally understood here that the Island of Chiloe, Chile, is the home of the potato and that it was found there by Pedro Valdivias expedition in the first half of the fifteenth century, where they were known by the natives as Poni. At that time potatoes served as the principal food of the Indians, who cultivated them to some extent, and where they are still cultivated in a very crude way. The Chiloe Archipelago is situated off the west coast...
