It has, in consequence, been compelled to rely on its intrinsic right to the common protection and favor of all civilized nations; and, thus far, for the most part, without being disappointed. The undersigned forbears to enter much at large into the particular matters discussed between the Liberian authorities and the British cruising officers. The right of the Liberian Government to maintain their jurisdiction over Bassa Cove and the dependent territory, forms the most important of them; and the denial of that right by several British officers is the most serious difficulty, of a political nature, which the Liberian settlement...
