Not illustrated. 1908 Excerpt: .but from that year the number of scholarships and the number of guaranteed appointments were limited, though education remained practically free. Since 1896 all students except soldiers and industrial apprentices have paid fees, but the applications for admission far exceed the accommodation. In the same year the methods of instruction were greatly developed, and the college was practically rebuilt. There are now chemical, physical, electrical, and mechanical laboratories, and technical workshops fitted with the latest tools and machinery. The press is supplied with power machines, and turns out all varieties of work besides ordinary printing. There are also mechanical and industrial classes. The total number of students in 1903-4 was 369; and in 1903 the press employed 125 workmen, and the workshops 52, besides 77 students. Roorkee is also the headquarters of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel and American Methodist Missions in this...
