Excerpt: . . . this state of facts it is earnestly contended that it would be unreasonable to hold that the defendant must be deemed thereby to have waived the right to arbitration. It is argued that the practical effect of such a construction of the statute would. be to make the company guarantee that the persons named by it for referees should not only be willing to serve when named, but that they shall remain alive and able and willing to serve during the entire limit of two years within which the action may be commenced. Several cases are also cited which are claimed to be in some respects analogous to that at bar and to lend some support to the defendants contention. In Fisher v. Insurance Co. , 95 Maine, 486, the referees were duly selected and made their award, but the plaintiff claimed that the...
