Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Outstanding Errors of the Nautical Almanac A correct nautical almanac is of unspeakable value to the astronomer, while an incorrect one makes it perilous for ships at sea. For a definite understanding of these outstanding errors the following quotations are made. The first quotation is from the pen of Simon Newcomb, as published in Harper's Magazine July, 1902; the second was written by C. A. Young and published in The Cosmopolitan June, 1894; and the third is a production by John Elfreth Watkins, Jr., and published in the Ladies Home Journal July, 1903. First: - Our own moon is one of the enigma of the mathematical astronomy. Observations show that she is deviating from her predicted place, and that this deviation continues to increase. True, it is not very great when measured by an ordinary standard. The time at which the moon's shadow passed a given point near Norfolk during the total eclipse of May 29, 1900, was only about seven seconds different from the time given in the Astronomical Ephemeris. The path...
